Effective 11-1-02, LECO will begin packaging the combustion boats used for many of our Organic Elemental Determinators in smaller containers that are specifically designed to prevent excessive damage in shipment. These containers will hold smaller quantities of boats and will have a different price. This change greatly reduces the amount of damage that may occur during the shipment of the product.

As a result of this change, LECO Part Number 528-203-500 Combustion Boats (500 pkg), will no longer be available. The new part number will be 528-203-250, and will come with 250 boats.

Don't forget about the other great products and services offered by LECO...

- NEW Preventative Maintenance Agreements
